NOVEMBER 4 CITY MATTERS.

WEIT OF ERROR ALLOWED .- The same Court that decided that John S. Gano was not Mar-shal of the city, yesterday granted him a writ of error, and the case, of course, still remains open.

COPYRIGHT SECURED .- In the United States District Court, yesterday, a copyright was taken out by Max Weil & Co., of this city, for a small volume entitled Schiller's Liven und Schriften ("The Life and Writings of Schiller"), by Godfried Becker.

EPICUREAN.—The new restaurant fitted up in the basement of the Burnet House, by Wil-liam Wilkinson, is already a favorite resort for those fond of good eating. Every nicety the dantiest appetite can relish is served there at all hours of the day and night.

THE SCHILLER CENTENNIAL. -The Germans of the city are making great preparations to celebrate, in a becoming manner, the Schiller Centennial, the particulars of which will be published in due time. F. Hassaurek will deliver the address upon the occasion.

PRESONAL.—Dr. Stephen Duncan and Thomas Rose, Esq., of Natchez, Mississippi, and J. D. Hill, Esq., of New Orleans, with their families, were at the Spencer House yesterday. These gentlemen are all very wealthy, their aggregate fortunes amounting to no less than from seven to eight million dollars.

ACCIDENT ON THE INDIANAPOLIS AND CINCIN-ACCIDENT ON THE INDIANAPOLIS AND CINCIN-MATI RAILEOAD.—The Mail train on the Indi-anapolis Railroad, due here at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, did not arrive until after six, in consequence of the bursting of several flues of the locomotive. The accident hap-pened near Shelbyville Station, but no damage save the delay rayulted from it. save the delay resulted from it.

A DOUBLE ACCIDENT FROM "LEAP-PROG."-A DOUBLE ACCIDENT FROM LEAT-YEOG.—
Yesterday afternoon, as two boys, John Falbott and Samuel Trobell, one of them, we believe, a pupil at the Fourth Intermediate School, were playing at the game of "leapfrog," on Court-street, between Race and Elm, the latter stumbled and fell, throwing his companion to the ground, by which mishap John broke his left and Samuel his right arm.

HYMSNEAL.—A very gay wedding party, in attendance upon Mr. F. M. Parish and his bride from Paris, Ky., were at the Operahouse. The ladies were very pretty, and costumed with all the elaborateness of the latest fashion's art, and on the very best terms with themselves; they were radiant with pleasantness and redolent of physical and spiritual sweetness. and spiritual sweetness.

THE RACES YESTERDAY.—The races yesterday at the Cincinnati Trotting Park were fairly attended and throughout warmly contested. The first match was for $400, two-mile heats, to wagons. We annex the following summary: James Rockey, enters b. m. "Fannie Hope," 2 1 1 Wm. Barwise, onters b. m. "Ida Bell," 1 2 2 Time 5:32%; 5:27%; 5:26%.

There was another match for $400, mile There was another match for $400, mile heats, best three in five, to wagons, between the Chicago b. g. "Ten Brocck," tretter, and C. W. Dimick's b. g. "J. A. Shannen," pacer; but somehow—those interested best know—the faster horse lost the race, and the judges declared that it was foul, and that all bets be drawn. The betting on both these races ran quite high, and considerable money found new hands before they were completed.

A RUNAWAY HORSE FALLS INTO A CELLAR.-A RUNAWAT HORSE FALLS INTO A CELLAR.—
A horse attached to a wagon belonging to the soap and candle factory of James R. Smith, on Webster-street, yesterday afternoon ran away down Ninth-street, but his rampant career was brought to a sudden termination by precipitating himself into the cellar of a coffee-house near Liberty-street. A rope and tackle were soon arranged, and he was lifted by their aid and that of the by-standers from the cellar and the predicament into which he had fallen. He seemed very tame when released, and walked toward home quite chapfallen, and apparently much ashamed of chapfallen, and apparently much ashamed of his rashness and impetuosity.

THE BURNET HOUSE .- A late number of the New Orleans Delta pays the following deserved compliment to the Burnet House:

"We know of no house in the West kept in better style than the Burnet House, in Cincinbetter style than the Burnet House, in Cincinnati, under the management of its present proprietors, Messrs. Johnson, Sanders & Co. It was a popular establishment with the Southern people when under the control of our sociable and handsome friend, Col. Coleman; but its present proprietors, the proteges of the Colonel—young American like—seem determined to surpass even the efforts of their professor in their art. We can confidently recommend the their art. We can confidently recommend the Burnet House to all our people as one of the best hotels in the country."

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT FROM THE EXPLOSION OF a CAMPHENE LAMP.—A woman named Con-nelly, who resides at the corner of Race-street nelly, who resides at the corner of Race-street and Water, was fearfully burned yesterday evening by the explosion of a camphene lamp. As usual, in such cases, she was filling it, when the fluid, coming in contact with the blane, set it on fire, and the liquid flame was immediately communicated to her person. Her injuries extend all over her arms, chest, neck, face and abdomen, and are so severe that it is hardly possible for her to recover. What renders the circumstance still more and, however, is the fact that she was about to pass however, is the fact that she was about to pass into the state of maternity, and thus the ac-cident involves the loss of two lives. Her wounds were carefully dressed by a physiciau in the neighborhood, who did all in his power to relieve her suffering, but fears all his efforts will be without avail.

Police Court. - Judge Lowe, yesterday morning, examined twenty-one cases, but their importance was not great. The follow-ing is the only case which was worthy of ing is the only case which was worthy of note, and its interest is derived from the fact that it has been mentioned before:

A fellow named Henry Gothart was charged with stealing a trunk under the following circumstances: He had been the traveling companion of a woman named Ann Rauley, from Pittaburg to this city, who was on her way to New Orleans. She remained, however, a few days in this city, and, being about to start for the South day before yesterday, estrusted her trunk to his care, he promising to take it to the steamer Neptune, upon which she intended to continue her journey. Instead, however, of taking it to the boat, it was transferred to his boarding-house, where he examined its to his boarding-house, where he examined its contents. After missing the trunk, Mrs. Ranley informed some of the Police of the circumstance, who arrested Gothart and com-mitted him to the Hammond-street Station-house. After hearing the case, Judge Lowe sestenced him to the County Jall for six

The Babe of a Beautiful Actress about Distressing Accident-A Young Atterto be Sold as a Slave-Three Years History of the Offspring of an Illicit Love.

About four years ago, a girl, whose dreamy eyes had not yet seen the violets of eighteen springs, was brought to this city from the East, by one of our theatrical managers, and after making her debut at his establishment, became a favorite with all its habitues. She had been engaged for juvenile tragedy parts, and her sweet face, her delicate, almost exquisite, features, her charming figure and elegant stage deportment made her a favorite and won sympathy from many persons whose long cos-mopolitan experience had made them quite

Among those who were most enthusiastic in her favor, was a young man from the northern part of the State, who saw her first as "Pauline," and over after when he spoke of her to his friends he called her by that name. Night after night he visited the theater, but only seemed to live when she was upon the stage. She knew him not, and of course never dreamed of the passion she had awakened, but still, like "Claude Melnotte," he loved and dared to send her flowers, and was happy when he saw them in her hand.

At length he managed to be introduced to his charmer, and his apparent devotion and sincerity soon won her heart. Alone, without friends, of rather a melancholy temperament, solely dependant upon herself, while at the same time sick of the world and tired of the same time sick of the world and tired of the part she was compelled to play in it, the sympathy he had to offer fell upon her spirit like a soothing balm. Before they had been acquainted a month they were inseparable, and in the society of each other spent all the time they could spare from their duties.

For several months this continued; but, like

Francesca di Rimini and her beloved Paolo, as they read, one afternoon, they fell, and their olden peace and content abandoned them, and came never back. Still they were devoted to each other, but their lives had been ideal, and the terrible result of having yielded to the tempter did not make itself fully known for several months. Then they were disconsolate. He was unfortunate in business, she could not He was unfortunate in business, she could not prosecute hers, and there seemed but one path for them to pursue. She left the theater for the ostensible purpose of going East; but really to become an inmate of one of the Hospitals of the city, at which she became the mother of a beautiful and bright-eyed girl, which she gave to a mulatto woman that it might be cared for without annovance to her.

cared for without annoyance to her.

A week or two ago this woman, whose name is Heazelton, left her residence on Sycamore-street, between Third and Fourth, and amore-street, between Third and Fourth, and went to Maysville, Ky., upon a visit to some relatives, taking the child with her. She had not been long in that city before she was arrested, and, with the babe of the actress, thrown into jail. She remained there some time, during which she managed to prove that the way were remained to prove that she was a free woman, and under that she was a free woman, and under promise of leaving the State, she was liberated. The child, however, was retained, and in spite of her protestations that it was a white child which had been given her to raise, it was kept in the possession of the authorities, while she was sent to this city.

A day or two since she went to one of the Lieutenants of our Police, and told the story we have related here; also stating that from the hour the mother of the child had left the Hespital, she had not been seen, and that nothing was now known of her. The father, too, has not been heard of, nor has he seen his child since it came into her possession. his child since it came into her possession.

The child, she says, although she can not prove it, is the offspring of the illicit love of the actress, and of as good parentage as those who, she fears, will yet make it a slave.

Meantime the Lieutenant has written to the Mayaville authorities in regard to the market.

Meantime the Lieutenant has written to the Maysville authorities in regard to the matter, and now awaits an answer. What will be the result of case still remains one of the mysteries ch time alone can solve; but we presume the woman or the authorities here will be compelled to resort to a writ of habeas corpus, and serve it on the Maysville semi-kidrappers.

The beauteous mother of the lovely babe, perhaps, is weening now over the fate that perhaps, is weeping now over the levely babe, perhaps, is weeping now over the fate that separates her from her offspring, and with breaking heart regrets that society will not allow her to recognize it as her own. This child's history, which began under such extraordinary circumstances, seems likely to continue to be strange in the extreme. Never knowing to whom it owes its existence, it will knowing to whom it owes its existence, it will pass through life and play its weary part, while the fact that her character, which has been saved at the expense of the loss of her child, will haunt the mother and embitter every cup her lips shall taste, although they might otherwise have been as sweet as Jove's own

THE WEATHER AND OUR CITY .- Yesterday was a beaufiful day, as have been many of its predecessors, reminding one more of May or June than November; the sky blue and bright, and the air so warm and balmly that it seemed as if the soft breezes would wake the flowers the chill autumn had put to sleep on the still verdant bill-sides. The streets were filled with gay promenaders, and Fourth-street was thronged all day with lovely women; not only from our own, but other leading cities.

The night was as lovely as the day, and more poetic, as the night always is. The moon was crescentially and charmingly pale, and the countless starry eyes of Heaven grew brighter as they watched her silvery march across the sky. There was no chilliness in the atmosphere, and doors and windows were thrown open to catch the genial breath that stole in laden with the breath of next Spring's flowers. It was a fair night for premens and sentiment, and poetry, and many were the gentle voices, the light feet, and hopeful hearts that did homage to the serene and speeding hours. The seeming of early summer was in the out-door world, and few who walked abroad but caught somewhat of the calm and holy inspiration of the night.

Serenaders were moved by the apt occasion and many a guitar trembled in answer to sympathetic songs beneath the open casements of fair ladies loved. As we write, after midnight, we hear the swell of music from the street, and the modulated tones of lovers' voices filling mind with memories of Venice and Italia's remantic years. Cincinnati is quite animated at present, as it has been indeed all the season. Business it has been indeed all the season. Business and pleasure are well and actively pursued. The hotels are filled with strangers, and our rosy-cheeked country cousins are here in goodly numbers. The wholesale and retail trade is lively, as Front, Walnut, Pearl, Main, Fifth and other thoroughfarse indicate. The theaters and other places of amusement are well patronized, and every thing gives promise of a bustling winter for merchants and a brilliant season for the members of the beau monde. The Queen City wears radiant smiles of contentment and prosperity upon her brow, for she sees before her a golden harvest in the coming future.

NEW POSTOFFICE APPOINTMENTS .- Dr. Vat New Postorice Arronxiests.—Dr. vat-tier, the newly appointed Postmaster, has made the following changes in the clerkships under his control. The appointees were sworn in by J. Bell Pollock, Eq., after which they entered upon the discharge of their duties. The fol-lowing are the changes which have been made: Bartholomew Smith, removed.

John Sinclair, Deputy-Postmaster, in place of Dr. Russell. Dr. Russell.
B. P. Churchill, in place of R. B. McGrew.
John G. Jones, in place of W. B. Barry.
John O'Dowd, in place of Thos. Barry.
Peter Hunt, in place of Thos. Moran.
- Jas. Pollock, in place of Edward Boyle.

UNPARALLELED ATROCITY-A CHILD TARRED At an early hour last evening, a little girl, two years old, daughter of Charles Reith, who resides on the corner of Ludian street and es on the corner of Ludlow-street and the resides on the corner of Ludlow-trees and the landing, was stripped by some scoundrels, tarred from head to foot, and sent in that condition to her home. We do not remember to have heard of an act which was quite so villianous as this, and heartily hope the perpetrators may be brought to justice. The parents of the outraged child offer a reward of $50 for their arrest.

ney Shot Through the Head and Almost Instantly Killed.

Day before yesterday, John A. Jeffers, a young attorney, of this city, went duck-hunting, in company with his brother-in-law, Jos. Muchmore, to the Great Miami River, and while in a skiff near Graham's Mills, concluded while in a skiff near Graham's Mills, concluded to land. Accordingly the boat was rowed to the shore, and Jeffers stepped out, trailing his gun in his hand, when the hammer, it is supposed, atruck against the side of the boat, causing the discharge of one of the barrels of the gun, as the muzzle was in a direct line with Jeffers' head. The contents of the barrel entered the neck of the unfortunate man, and passed out on the left side of his forehead. Jeffors fell to the ground, and though he lived for an hour, he did not speak and was not con-scious after the accident.

Jeffers, who had been married about two years, leaves a widow and one child. The body was brought to the city, and the first in-timation his wife received of the casualty was in seeing the corpse of her late husband, who had parted from her only a few hours before in full health and hope, with a prospect before him of many years of happiness.

of the city, be instructed to execute a bond for costs of appeal, if necessary in his opinion.
Referred to the Committee on Law.

Mr. Battersby, from the Committee on Gas, reported in favor of paying to J. M. Wolf, the sum of $45 for 150 gas-burners, at thirty cents each, for the use of the street lamps.
He took occasion to state that the new burners would materially diminish the amount of gas required, and thereby greatly lessen the expenditure for lights. expenditure for lights.

Several ordinances levying special taxes for internal improvements were passed. Adjourned.

POLICE COURT .- The following cases were disposed of by Mayor Foley yesterday: Andrew Adams, for drunkenness, was fined Andrew Adams, for drunkenness, was fined $2 75. Wm. Lanan, for disorderly condust, was fined $2 80. David Shaler, for peddling without license, was fined $3. He plead ignorance, and it being his first offense, he was let off easily. He was unable to pay his fine, and gave his carpet-sack of "notions," consisting of six papers of baking-powder, three or four papers of salaratus, and two bottles of some kind of polish, as security for the payment of his fine; the whole, if inventoried, would be found to be worth about twenty cents. The unlucky man then started for the river, The unlucky man then started for the river, intending to draw on some Cincinnati bank for money to redeem his bundle.

Case or Lunacy.—A woman, about forty-five years of age, named Sophia Laferty, was yesterday brought before Judge Moore, of the County Court, in order to test her sanity. The jury returned a verdict of confirmed lunacy, and she was ordered to the Lexington Lunatic

NEWPORT NEWS.

CITY Council .- But little business was transacted by the Council last night. Two or three coffee-house licenses were granted. Mr. Gideon resigned his position as Chairman of the Committee on Poor, and Mr. Meade was appointed in his place. Mr. Hayman made a random speech and the Council adjourned.

LAW REPORT.

HAMILTON COUNTY DISTRICT COURT. BYROUTORS RETURNING PROPERTY FOR AS-RESULTIONS 16-5) ENING PROPERTY FOR AS-RESULENT.—A question was raised before this Court in the case of C. Hurkness and others against Howard Matthews, County Auditor, in relation to the property mode of making a return as to the property of a deceased party, (Ast bour Harkness,) where there were three executors, two residing in Glendale, and the other in the Eastern Precinct of Millereck Town-ship.

were intree executors, and the executors makes a return of the other in the Eastern Precinct of Millereck Township, thip.

Mr. King, one of the executors, makes a return of the entire property (£212,000) to springfield Township, while the Auditor, having his attention called to the matter, directs the whole to be entered as an assessment in Glendale.

The only rule that could be adopted, in view of the difficulties of the statute, was to consider each executor as bound to deliver to the assessor a return as to the property under his control; so that while Mr. King could not, as one of the executors, alter the locality of the property by transferring the whole fund to the Eastern Precinct of Springfield, the Auditor had not the right to throw it all into Giondale. The Court suggested that the parties should agree upon a return to be regulated upon the principle announced.

D. A. Powell vs. W. R. Morris. This was a bill of D. A. Powell vs. W. R. Morris.

upon a return to be regulated upon the principle announced.

D. A. Powell vs. W. R., Morris. This was a bill of review to reverse a decision of the old Superior Court. Judge Mallon announced the opinios, dismissing the bill.

Springer and Whiteman vs. Spalding and others. Judge Cartor gave the opinion in this case, which involved a question as to the payment of a note, claimed by Gross & Dietrich. The Court held they were entitled to the payment of the note.

Corning vs. Dingfelter. Motion to retax costs. Judge Dickson delivered the opinion, holding that they must be taxed as prayed for by plaintiff. Judge Mallon dissented.

An application for a writ of habeas cospus in the case of Christian Goedman, in custody, on a charge of assault and hattery, was allowed.

The market cannot be called easy as yet, but the improvement in its tone steadily continues, and Capital is in quite fair supply for all legitimate purposes; the Discount-houses accommodating their customers with more freedom at 10@12 per cent.

Eastern Exchange was scarce yesterday, and some of the dealers paid as high as 45c, for drafts on New York. The general buying rate, however, was about 40c, and Baltimers and Boston bills would not command over % premium.

Of Gold, considerable sales are still making at 45c,

Wednesday's Herald observes in regard to financial affairs in New York:

The scarcity of good paper becomes more marked every day. Of second and third class saper the supply is large, and is some instancer the rates at which it is discounted are high. The course of the dry goods market has discredited a good deat of paper made by dry goods importers; we hear already whispers of private arrangements for extensions. But parties whose names are untainted, or who have good securities, can borrow very cheaply indeed."

At Chicago the receipts of wheat for the week ending Wednesday exceed those of the week previous 119,000 bashels, and of four 5,000 barsels in the receipts and shipments of flour for the week are the largest ever known in the history of Chicago.

The receipts of flour for the above three months were ever known in the history of Chicago.

The receipts of flour for the above three months were 19,317 bris.; in 1855, 185,000 bris.; in 1857, 151,410 bris.; in 1858, 283,777 bris.; while in 1859 the receipts foot up 335,577 bris.

Concerning Pork-pa hg in St. Louis and Alton, yesterday's Missouri Democrat remarks;

It is generally believed that the Hog crop will come in late this season. The St. Louis packers are making such preparations as lead us to believe they will this season slaughter more than 100,000 head. This they could easily do in less than twenty days' time, as the capacity of the slavghter-houses is 5,600 head a day. Those intending to pack this season are Messre.

At Alton, we are informed by Greenwood & Co., packing has not commended yet. Last year some 2,000 were slaughtered there, against 5,000 they revious season. There are three packing-houses at that point, one capable of slaughtering 1,600 hogs a day. Prices there will likely open about as here $4 50 per 100 pounds net, or possibly $5. It is probable the number of hogs will not be

NATIONAL THEATER—BENEFIT OF JULIA DEAK

NATIONAL TREATER—BENEFIT OF JULIA DEAN This excellent actress appeared last night to a fine and lence as "Evadae," and won considerable applause by her impersonation of this beautiful but difficult character. Her friends are numerous, and, we are giad to perceive, seem determined to make the present engagement one of the most smocessful she over played in this city.

She will present her claims to them to night as a beneficiare, and offers a very attractive entertainment. She will appear as "Madaline, the Maid of the Faulourg," and as "Constance," in Sheridan Knowles's exquisite comedy of TRE LOVE CRASS. Mr. Elmore will also appear in both of these, and will doubtless add considerably to the magnetic power of the bill. THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT .- The Concert of

THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT.—The Concert of Mrs. J. S. Drew, at Smith & Nixon's Hall last night, was well attended. This lady has a large number of friends and admirers in this city, and last night by their patronage they gave her an excellent proof of the estimation in which she is held. Her voice is not great either in power or compass, but it is sweet, clear and highly cultivated. Her trilling is delicious and her style excellent. The other performers, Meerer. Tosso, Drew and Kunkel are too well-known to require a word at our hands; but the whole affair passed off admirably, and, was certainly a financial success.

Success.

THE CONCERT TO NIGHT BY SIGNOR CORRADI COLLEGE.—This excellent singer, so long a resident of our city, will give a grand farewell concert this evening in Smith & Nixon's Hall. The programme is an excellent one, and contains some of the finest arias ever written. Among these are the famous duett from Don Pasquale, a duet from Trovatore, Il Balen from the same opera Largo al Farlotum from Il Barbiers and the renewned Marseillaise. With such a programme and the assistance of his acromplished daugnter, Berthe, and our townsmen Tosso and Kunkle, the audience should fill the house in every part.

GRAND SUBSCRIPTION CONCERT.-The first of two grand subscription Concerts to be given by Mr. R. G. Paige, will take place on Monday evening, at Smith & Nixon's Hall. These concerts promise to be among the finest of the season, and if culture and a large variety of musical taiont can make them such, they will prove all they promise.

TRE OLYMPIC.—This establishment, at No. 10 East Fourth-street, is quite a favorite resort, and their nightly concerts are largely attended.
